

Our Human Rights

- I have a right to be happy and to be treated with respect and compassion in this room:
This means that no one will laugh at me, humiliate me, or hurt my feelings.
- I have a right to be myself in this room:
This means that no one will treat me unfairly because of my skin color, for the choices I make or the beliefs I hold, for being fat or thin, tall or short, boy or girl, or for the way I look, speak, act, or dress.
- I have a right to be safe in this room:
This means that no one will hit me, kick me, push me, pinch me, hurt me, or threaten me, my family, or my personal belongings.
- I have a right to hear and be heard in this room:
This means that no one will yell, scream, shout, make loud noises, or otherwise interfere with my right to learn.
- I have a right to learn about myself in this room:
This means that I will be free to express my feelings and my opinions, without being interrupted, ridiculed, or punished.
- I have a right to learn according to my own ability:
This means no one will call me names because of the way I learn.
